

1

We take turns, clockwise. In turn, pick a card and read it out loud.

2

You've been touring regularly with the same band for ten, twenty years.

3

You are roadies, members of the staff, the production company or the close circle of musicians.

4

Over the years, you have established bonds of affection and mistrust with your fellow travellers. As many beautiful memories as bitter resentments.

5

This new tour is not a classic one. It is rumored to be unique, whimsical, extraordinary. Besides, the fans rushed to the counters.

6

As for you, you are more than ever on the alert.

7

Start by creating the Group. Note the answers to the following questions on a support visible to all players. If necessary, don't hesitate to take notes on your side.

8

Choose a musical style and name for the band (you can look for inspiration in the last concerts you attended).

9

The group is composed of 3 members for a game with 2 to 4 players, 4 members for a game with 5 or 6 players.

10

Assign each member a gender identity and a first name or nickname. Divide the voice and instruments among each member of the Group.

11

Designate a frontman / frontwoman (the person who is in charge of the show on the front of the stage and who is often at the head of the group)

12

You are now ready to go on tour with the Group! The following cards explain how to play.

13

When the "Instructions" cards are all read, we continue to take turns playing with the "Questions" cards.

14

Read your card aloud and answer the question.

15

Other players can ask you questions or make suggestions. But they can't answer for you and it's up to you to decide whether or not you take their comments into account.

16

When you answer a question, don't hesitate to involve the characters of the other players in your answer, while letting them describe the emotions and gestures of their roadie.

17

The X card is placed under the cards, where each one can easily grasp it.

18

If there is a card or answer that you do not want to include in the story, touch the X card. This content is removed from the game.

19

If your card is removed from the game in this way, draw a new one. You can use the X card on your own card.

20

Your turn, you can pass. Give your card to the next player and say, "I'd like to hear your answer to that question."

21

A "Questions" card can thus be passed from player to player until it is cancelled by the X card.

22

Continue to answer, pass or use the X card until the "The Group will separate" card is drawn.

23

Each player answers the question "Are you stopping her?" in turn. Then the game is over.

24

The player who wishes to draw the first "Questions" card can do so.

Why do you choose to serve the band's style instead of the music you prefer?

What scandal in the people's press did you save a member of the group from? What did you ask him for in return?

Who attracts you most to the tour? Does he give you back your affection as you would like?

Why do you hate this person on the tour? In what way are you trying to harm him?

You were madly in love. How did this group member ruin your romance?

Who allowed you to join the band's tours? How? How?

You wrote a song for the band. How did you feel when he played it on stage for the first time?

What trophy did you keep from one of the first concerts? Why do you keep it?

What event showed you that you've had enough of touring?

Which member of the group cheered you up when you were about to quit?

The band consulted you on the cover of the next album. What criticisms or advice did you give?

Who in your heart has the most important place in the group?

An argument broke out one day in the group. Who are you taking sides with?

Why does seeing the band on stage galvanize you?

Who invited you to come on stage one night for a concert? What do you remember about it?

A group member's sexual partner tries to seduce you one day. How do you react to his advances?

You betrayed a member of the group. What scandal is about to break out in the open? How do you plan to justify yourself?

A member of the group took you for a confidant. What did he tell you? Can he trust you?

You tried to start a band on your side, but it was a failure. Tell me about it. Why did the band take you back on their tours?

You want to be like that person on the tour. Who is it? Who is it? What's so special about it?

A member of the group has an addiction. How do you help him get out?

A paparazzi approached you. What information are you willing to share about the group?

Who on the tour is favoured by the band? Why do you think he doesn't deserve them?

All these years, you've been neglecting your family and friends to follow the band on tour. How do you feel about that?

You did everything you could to sink a rival band of the group. How did you do it?

One day, you were mistaken for a member of the group. Why did you maintain the illusion for a while?

You travel all over the world thanks to tours. Which place marked you the most?

One day someone caught you mimicking one of the band members on the empty stage. How did you justify yourself?

Who did you get the number from on the tour? When and under what pretext do you use it or have you used it?

One night due to lack of space you shared a luxurious hotel room with a member of the group. What came out of this unexpected intimacy?

Of all the songs in the band, one in particular often comes back to mind. What's so special about him?

For which of these commitments do you admire the group?

What position does a member of the group take that disappoints or even shocks you?

One day you catch a member of the group crying hot tears. Are you trying to comfort him? How does he react?

Who on the tour knows your biggest secret? Are you afraid he'll disclose it?

What gift did you receive in recognition of the importance you have on tour? Who do you think is sick of jealousy?

What service did a group of fans ask you for? How did you react?

Why is one of the group members deliberately ignoring you?

Which concert was the most successful according to you and why?

Which member of the group gives you tips for singing or playing an instrument? What do you think of these private lessons?

Which member of the group is starting a career in film? What impact does this have on the tour?

What does your look like? Who thinks it's ridiculous and makes you feel it?

There was this memorable drink after a concert. Why did she mark you?

With whom did you have a great friendship story during these tours? How did it evolve on your side?

The Group will separate. Are you stopping him?