

1

You live in a neighbourhood, which has been plagued by a horrible Goose.

2

Each of your lives have had to adapt as a result.

3

Many of you will never be the same.

4

By some divine grace you have been given some respite from the Goose's reign of terror.

5

You know very well, this will not last forever.

6

Take turns drawing question cards and answering them. You are encouraged to ask each other follow up questions.

7

If you do not wish to answer a question, you can pass it to the next player or ignore it.

The Goose's rampage once made you a good friend. What unfortunate event did the two of you bond over?

You once mistook your neighbour's dog for the Goose. What damage did you cause before realising your mistake?

Someone offered you a way out of this nightmare. Who was it and why did you decline?

The Goose has cost you a fortune. What possession was hardest to lose?

An old neighbour couldn't stand the Goose and moved. Why did this make you feel relieved?

What artistic endeavour
has the Goose inspired?
How do you feel about
the piece?

The Goose has forced
you to quit a hobby.
What was it and why
are you happier now?

You broke something
you had borrowed from a neighbour and
blamed it on the Goose.
What was it and how
does the memory of it
haunt you?

The Goose has forced
you to quit a hobby.
What was it and how
are you trying to get back into it?

The Goose will be your undoing. When did you realise this?

The Goose took
something from you
that cannot be replaced. What changes have you had
to make to accomodate
its loss?

How do you carry the Goose with you, even in peaceful times?

The Goose caused an end to a friendship you used to treasure. What unfortunate event did
the two of you fall out
over?

You've lost faith
because of the Goose.
What did you use to believe in?

You once got closer to the Goose than you would have liked. What did you see in its eyes?

What impossible thing
have you seen the Goose do? Who did not believe you when you
told them what happened?

What made you declare war? Was it too late?

You've lost many nights of good sleep thanks to the Goose. How did you spend them?

What promise have you had to break because of the Goose's presence?

You saw the Goose in a dream. What do you remember most vividly from the encounter?

You know that the Goose is capable of mercy. What makes you so sure?

You angered the Goose once. How have you come to regret this?

What coping mechanism have you developed since the Goose came into your life?

Who have you lost to your obsession with the Goose?

Where can you no longer go because of the Goose?

You learned the hard way not to underestimate the Goose. What happened?

A HONK woke you up in the middle of the night. What did you reach for on your bedside table?

You once managed to persuade the Goose to leave. Why did it fail the second time you tried?

You think you know where the Goose is hiding its stolen items. Where is it and what keeps you from taking back what is yours?

What rift in the community of the neighbourhood has the Goose caused?

Which one of your neighbours do you suspect of aiding the Goose? How have you let them know of your suspicions?

The Goose is back. What do you do?